

CFO Selections Acquires Financial Consulting Practice Of Next Step Solutions

Bellevue, WA – CFO Selections (CFOS), a Bellevue based finance and accounting consulting firm, announced the acquisition of the financial consulting practice of Edmonds based Next Step Solutions today. Joining CFO Selections as senior associate will be former practice leader and founder Dennis Purvine, CPA.

Next Step Solutions, founded in 2001, is a team of business consultants specializing in providing operational, financial, and management guidance to entrepreneurs and small-to medium-sized businesses. The accounting and financial consulting practice, formerly headed by Purvine, will be folded into the CFOS professional services division led by Managing Partner, Tom Varga.

“We are very excited to combine forces with Next Step and to have Dennis and his team join the CFOS family,” Varga said. “He has built a strong practice over the past seven years and this acquisition further cements our market position in the northern Puget Sound markets.”

The transaction is expected to close by the end of the month.

About CFO Selections

CFO Selections provides finance and accounting executive search and interim consulting services to a wide range of organizations in the West. The company focuses on locating and recruiting the highest caliber senior-level talent available. Its team of consulting CFOs works in a collaborative and problem-solving way to generate maximum results. CFO Selections' trusted executives have assisted many clients bridge the gap to profitable growth by tailoring their services to meet exacting situations.

CFO Selections headquartered in Bellevue, WA can be reached by contacting Managing Partner Tom Varga at (206) 686-4480 ext. 123, or tom@cfoselections.com

###